TAS Premier 7i Raises the Bar

Salt Lake City - Addsum Business Software, Inc. today announced the release of its TAS Premier 7i integrated Windows desktop database development tool which replaces the TAS Professional 6 and 7 series.

TAS Premier 7i remains compatible with all 32-bit version of the Pervasive (Btrieve) record manager engine and has been tested and updated for Pervasive V9. It is also compatible with all code developed under TAS Professional 6 (Business Tools) and Addsum's TAS Professional 7.

While continuing to maintain features that support legacy TAS Professional 5.1 style programs and providing some new functionality in that regard (TAS Premier™ is the first 32-bit version to properly handle escape and interrupt traps in legacy programs), continuous and ongoing development efforts focus on graphical user interface and improved internal functionality for object-based desktop PC programming. Among the new primary features in the Premier version are code templates which allow programmers to easily retrieve and manage commonly used code snippets and extensive, fully integrated bar charting capabilities which allow both for chart selection, display and printing. Many other new features and improvements both in terms of developer ease of use and end user functionality result in a product that takes the TAS development system to a new level.

Addsum continues to support and provide programming services for prior releases of TAS Professional including Business Tools versions 3.0, 4.0, 5.0, 5.1 and 6 and its prior release of 7.

TAS Premier™ continues to excel for use in custom in-house database systems, modifiable accounting programs and generally for database projects involving multiple programmers. The Premier tool remains free to developer use with modest licensing fees for end user deployment.
